

THE WEATHER

It's the obvious emotion
I feel it when I breathe
It's your subtle hesitation
When you say that you love me

Is it right or wrong
Is it where we both belong
For worse or better
Let's talk about the whether

Whether we will
Whether we won't
Whether we'll ride off in the sun
Or set our minds that it's time and move on Whether it's love
Whether it's done
Whether it's just a season that has come and gone
I need to know
Cause it changes like the weather

It is just the word forever
And what that really means
Is it the fear of being lonely
That won't let go of you and me

Is it go or stay
I can't wait another day
It's now or never
So lets talk about the whether

We're in a dangerous shade of grey
And there's no way around it
If we don't talk about it

Words & Music By Gene Reynolds and Corrine Chapman