

TURN OFF THE MOON

A set of lonely footprints in the evening sand
A yellow moon silhouettes a broken man
Been out here all night, it's finally sinking in
When I was holding you, you were, thinkin' 'bout him

So turn off the moon
It's not meant for me
I guess this dream
Just ain't meant to be
But I can't turn off my heart
So let me sit here in the dark
Turn off the moon

Those hearts we drew in the sand, washed out to the sea
You packed up all your love, left your memories
Yesterday that same moon used to be my friend
Now it's shining in my tears, wish this night would end

CHORUS

I know things will get better, I'm gonna be alright
But tonight I'm drowning in this lonesome light

CHORUS

(Words & Music by: Cheryl Ashton, Cathy Kent, Dean Sharp Backholm and Richard Page Davis)